

UNITED NATIONS DAY LECTURE – Canberra

“ 50 YEARS OF UNCITRAL – WHAT’S NEXT? ”

The United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL) was founded 50 years ago. Its achievements have accompanied the boom in global trade and investment since that time, including in areas such as international arbitration, cross-border insolvency, sale of goods, electronic commerce and secured transactions. UNCITRAL has now taken on a major new mandate to consider the future of Investor State Dispute Settlement (ISDS), amongst a range of other work. Where will this lead?

The UN Day Lecture is an initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA). It will be presented around Australia to introduce lawyers, academics and students to the past and future work of UNCITRAL. Admission will be free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 1st November 2017
Time:	5.30pm – 7.00pm
Venue:	University of Canberra Moot Court, Building 11, Bruce, ACT

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Professor Lawrence Pratchett
Speaker:	Tim D. Castle, Barrister and Chair UNCCA
Commentary:	Ian Govey AM

A drinks reception hosted by Professor Maree Sainsbury, Deputy Dean (Faculty of Business Government & Law), and Dr David Carter, Associate Dean (Research), NeXus Centre for Research, of the University of Canberra will immediately follow the Lecture.

Register your attendance by 25th October here
or by email at uncca.events@gmail.com