

UN DAY LECTURE – BRISBANE

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 1, Level 7 119 North Quay, Brisbane

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Justice Roger Derrington
Speaker:	Professor Khory McCormick, Griffith University
Commentary:	Ms Erika Williams, McCullough Robertson

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – MELBOURNE

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 8A, Level 8 305 William Street, Melbourne

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Ms Caroline Kenny QC, President CIArb Australia
Speaker:	Chief Justice James Allsop AO
Commentary:	Justice Clyde Croft

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – SYDNEY

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 1, Level 21 Law Courts Building, Queens Square, Sydney

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Justice Nye Perram
Speaker:	Hon Roger Gyles AO, QC
Commentary:	Professor Vivienne Bath, University of Sydney

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – CANBERRA

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	ACT Supreme Court Ceremonial Court, Level 1 6 Knowles Place, Canberra

PROGRAMME:

Chair: Justice Chrissa Loukas-Karlsson

Speaker: Dr Dalma Demeter, Deputy Chair UNCCA, University of Canberra

Commentary: Ian Govey AM, Executive Director, ACICA

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – PERTH

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 1, Level 7 1 Victoria Avenue, Perth

PROGRAMME:

Chair: Justice Katrina Banks-Smith
Speaker: Justice Neil McKerracher, Chair, UNCCA
Commentary: Professor Camilla Andersen, University of Western Australia

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – ADELAIDE

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 1, Level 5 3 Angas Street, Adelaide

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Justice Anthony Besanko
Speaker:	Judge Patrick O'Sullivan
Commentary:	Mrs Jessica Viven-Wilksch, University of Adelaide

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – DARWIN

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	William Forster Chambers Library, Level 2 26 Harry Chan Avenue, Darwin

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Justice Judith Kelly
Speaker:	Cameron Ford, Senior Corporate Counsel, Rio Tinto
Commentary:	Associate Professor David Price, Charles Darwin University

Register your attendance here

UN DAY LECTURE – HOBART

60th Anniversary of the New York Convention 1958–2018

International commercial arbitration is founded upon one of UNCITRAL's most successful conventions, the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. Three-quarters of all nations, including Australia, have signed on to the New York Convention over its 60 year history. The Convention allows arbitration to cut through the problem of resolving international disputes by allowing parties to choose a neutral tribunal to determine their disputes, and permits lawyers to appear in these arbitrations wherever they are held without needing special practising rights.

The UN Day Lecture is an annual initiative of the UNCITRAL National Coordination Committee for Australia (UNCCA) to introduce and recognise the work of UNCITRAL. This year, the Lecture will be held around Australia in all capital cities to commemorate this important Convention. Admission is free, but registration is required.

Date:	Wednesday 24th October 2018 (UN Day)
Time:	5.00pm – 6.15pm
Venue:	Federal Court of Australia Courtroom 1, Level 2 39–41 Davey Street, Hobart

PROGRAMME:

Chair:	Justice Duncan Kerr
Speaker:	Tim D. Castle FCIArb, Barrister, 6 St James Hall Chambers
Commentary:	Ms Anja Hilkemeijer, University of Tasmania

Register your attendance here